This index was originally produced for in-house use at the Durham County Library. We did not use standard subject headings in large part, opting for natural English terms. Any organization beginning with North Carolina is placed under NC. We did use the full names of groups rather than their acronyms. For example, articles about NC WARN are located under NC Waste Awareness and Reduction Network. Most entries have three subject headings. We paid special attention to cultural coverage, including local bands, authors, plays, and events. The music scene was the most challenging, and we hope that we covered it fully. We did not index regular columns, nor articles from other papers that were reprinted in The Independent. We hope you find this index useful. Yearly updates will be available.
